Due to reduced need and number of refugees coming into this area, Integrate has now come to a natural conclusion. All the young people who passed through 'our' doors are now in education and have 'integrated' to some extent in the local community or have been moved on to other areas of the country.

"I would like to say a big 'Thank you' to all those who were involved and who gave their commitment, skill, energy and care to the young people who came to this area of Kent in a time of crisis. Thank you, too, to all those who prayed for this initiative." Teresa Griffiths, Group leader.
